Fecal Examination Class for Camelids and Small Ruminants

Do you want to know more about performing onsite fecal examinations? This will save money and time when treating your animals. There will be a workshop on "Basic Fecal Examinations" hosted by Sutton At Home Alpacas on February 23, 2019, from 8 to 4 on the MS&T campus in Room 111 Schrenk Hall in Rolla, MO. The workshop will be conducted using state of the art microscopes!

Sutton At Home Alpacas is sponsoring this workshop for camelid and small ruminant owners. Class fee is $150 for one person and $120 for the second one from the same farm.

Dr. Clarissa Wisner will be conducting the workshop, she is a career microscopist and alpaca owner living in Rolla, Mo. Clarissa received her BS in Chemistry in '81, MS in Geology in '94, a second MS in Engineering in '07 and finally her PhD in Chemistry in '14. She is employed at MS&T as an electron microscopy specialist.

Topics to be covered include:

- How to obtain, prepare and read a fecal sample
- Background on ruminant parasites as related to camelids
- Anthelmintics: past, current, future
- Parasite control practices
- Guest speaker Dr. Victoria Kwasa on over all herd health.

Who will benefit from this workshop? All alpaca and llama owners, goat owners, sheep owners, cattle owners, those that work with herd animals.
